This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Preface.

THE orthodox beginning to a history of the family of Douglas is to quote the words of David Hume of Godscroft: "We do not know them in the Fountain, but in the Stream; not in the Root, but in the Stock and Stem; for we know not who was the first mean Man that did by his Virtue raise himself above the Vulgar." These words were written in 1625 and are true to-day, and will probably remain so for all time.

Hume's work was the first family history printed, its compilation was finished in 1625, he obtained a licence to print it in 1631, and the first edition was printed about 1633, only one copy of which is known to exist. It was reprinted in 1644, 1648, an undated edition, 1657, 1743, 1748 and 1820.

Hume's History deals with the Earls of Douglas and the House of Angus.

The magnificent Douglas Book by Sir Wm. Fraser, printed 1885, also only treats of the Earls of Douglas and Angus and the Douglases of Glenbervie.

Sir Herbert Maxwell's History of the House of Douglas, published 1902, deals with the Earls of Douglas and the main lines of the Houses of Queensberry, Angus and Morton. Of other works referring to the Douglas family may be mentioned Pineda's A Synopsis of the Genealogy of the Noble Family of Brigantes or Douglas, published 1754, a History of Douglas of Tilwhilly or Tilquhillie, The Genealogy of the Families of Douglas of Mulderg, published 1895, and the Registrum Honoris de Morton.

In this work I have endeavoured to trace the descent in the male line of all branches of the Douglas family, and as the lines of Drumlanrig, Cavers, Bonjedward and Morton, and cadets of all the branches, have been practically ignored by all former writers, it will be realised that my task has been a heavy one. I am quite conscious that my work is very far from perfect, but I hope it will prove useful to future historians better equipped than I am.

This great and warlike family remained loyal to the crown, until one of lesser power, a Stewart, succeeded through the marriage of his father to the throne of Scotland, and from that time perpetual war raged between the two families. The deaths of the sixth and eighth Earls of Douglas will always be a blot on the Stewarts' fame. The Stewarts triumphed in the end and crushed the Earls of Douglas, but the Angus line rose out of the ruin and flourishes to-day.

As regards the Armorial Bearings I have to thank Sir James Balfour Paul, Lyon-King-of-Arms, for allowing me to consult his Register, Mr F. J. Grant, Lyon-Clerk, for much kindly help, and Mr W. Rae Macdonald for allowing me to use his valuable book on Scottish Seals.

Owing to the fact that—

> "So many, so good, as of the Douglases have been,
> Of one sirname were ne'er in Scotland seen"

I have had to omit all such titles as "His Grace," "The Most Noble," "The Right Honourable," "Lord," "Lady" and "Honourable," and trust that as the Douglases themselves are the cause they will excuse the omission.

Introduction.

ARMORIAL BEARINGS.

DOUGLAS ARMS.—The Seal of Sir William Moray, 1296, shows three stars as the charge (Laing). In the Armorial de Gelre (fourteenth century), these Arms appear as azure, three stars argent. The Seal of Sir William Douglas of 1296 shows on a chief three stars, and in the Armorial de Gelre these Arms appear as argent, on a chief azure three stars of the field (with heart in addition). From the similarity of the Arms it is supposed that the Murrays and Douglases had a common origin. The Douglases then branched into two lines—the senior retained the azure chief with three stars; the junior, that of Morton, changed the chief to gules and reduced the stars to two. The senior line with the blue chief added a red heart to the field in commemoration of the fact that the Good Sir James carried Robert Bruce's heart at least part of the way to the Holy Land. The first Marquis of Douglas added a crown to the heart to show that it was that of a king. The junior line with the red chief also branched out, and the younger branch, that of Lochleven, made the chief dancetty, and the three teeth were later lengthened into piles.

EARLS OF DOUGLAS.—As shown in the text and plates the Earls added the heart to the paternal Arms, they then quartered the Arms of MAR on succeeding to that Earldom, and dropped these Arms when they could no longer claim them. They then added at different times the Arms of Galloway, Bothwell, Annandale, Touraine and Lauderdale on acquiring these lordships. In the fourth quarter of the Arms of the ninth Earl appear six piles sable, which are referred to more fully below under Angus. The Earl of Moray quartered the Arms of that Earldom with his paternal coat, and the Earl of Ormond was content with the paternal Arms, merely changing the field to ermine.

DOUGLASES OF DRUMLANRIG, KELHEAD AND QUEENSBERRY descended from a natural son of the second Earl of Douglas and Mar, kept the quartered Arms of Douglas and Mar and added a red bordure, afterwards changed to gold, on which was the red royal tressure.

DOUGLASES OF CAVERS, also descended from a natural son of the second Earl of Douglas and Mar, kept the Arms of Douglas only, but added a blue bordure, and their cadets of Friarshaw further differenced by making the bordure nebuly.

DOUGLASES OF ANGUS are descended from a natural son of the first Earl of Douglas and Mar. By reference to the text and plates it will be seen that the second Earl quartered the Arms of Douglas with the white lion of his Earldom—Angus. The third Earl introduced the Arms of Stewart of Bonkyl and Abernethy, derived from the Stewarts, the former Earls of Angus. The fourth and fifth Earls added the Arms of Liddesdale (the old Arms of the Soulis family). The sixth Earl of Angus introduced the Piles in place of Liddesdale, and these, their number and colour, have given cause for much heraldic and historical dispute. At one time they were given as the Arms of Wishart of Brechin, and later as representing Ettrick Forest. I shall deal first with the number. On the Garter Plate of the ninth Earl of Douglas six piles are shown; the sixth and eighth Earl of Angus have five; the first Marquis of Douglas has four, and the second Marquis three. As regards colour, the Garter Plate (1461) of the ninth Earl of Douglas shows the piles sable, and as the red heart in his Arms still appears in its proper colour, it is not likely that the piles have changed. Sir David Lindsay, 1542, shows the Arms of "Brechane of Auld" as Or, three piles gules, but the second Marquis of Douglas had not reduced the piles on his Arms to three till about 1669. George Burnett, Lyon-King-of-Arms, asserts that the family of Wishart of Brechin never existed, so I think we may safely assume that the piles in the Angus Arms represent neither Wishart nor Brechin.

The ninth Earl of Douglas certainly owned Ettrick Forest, and might have adopted the piles to represent stakes surrounding that domain, the sable used to colour them must have been employed with his sanction, and was probably derived from the weathered or tarred wood, or from the bark left on the stakes. The green piles, which appear in some comparatively modern lists of Arms, seem to me to have no historical value. Why then were these piles afterwards coloured gules? When James, Marquis of Douglas, recorded Arms, 1672-77, the third quarter granted was Argent, three piles gules "for Wishart." It was then apparently that the number and colour were decided, and I suggest that both were derived from the Arms of Douglas of Lochleven, either through ignorance of what or who the piles represented, or to show a connection with the apparently better born House of Morton.

The Arms of Stewart of Bonkyl, granted to several members of this family, show the bend sable, but both Lindsay and Nisbet make it gules.

The eighth Earl of Angus substituted the Arms of Galloway for those of Abernethy, but in the grant to the second Marquis of Douglas, 1672-77, they take the place of Angus. The Douglases of Glenbervie and their cadets have taken as their difference the embattled cross of Auchinleck.

DOUGLASES OF BONJEDWARD were apparently descended from a Johnson who married a natural daughter of the first Earl of Douglas and Mar. They differenced the Douglas Arms by adding a red label of three points.

DOUGLASES OF MORTON AND LOCHLEVEN.—This branch of the family has the chief red, and the stars two in number, and these were the Arms down to the third Earl of Morton. The fourth Earl of Morton belonged to the Angus branch, and he quartered these Arms with those of the Earls of Douglas.

The Douglases of Whittinghame added the black cinquefoil of the Borthwicks as their difference, but the Swedish branch has apparently adopted the blue chief with three stars, and what is more peculiar, have placed the red heart on the black cinquefoil.

The Douglases of Lochleven made the chief dancetty of three teeth, and these teeth gradually lengthened into piles. When this branch of the family succeeded to the Earldom of Morton they followed the example of the fourth Earl and quartered their Arms with those of the Earls of Douglas.

DOUGLASES OF MAINS, PUMPHERSTON AND BAADS have all peculiar variations of the Douglas Arms, and some of the "other Douglases" have Arms which are both curious and interesting.

CRESTS.

THE EARLS OF DOUGLAS used a plume of white feathers, which to us seems very inappropriate for one of the bravest and most warlike families; but Henry of Navarre, also a gallant soldier, shared their choice of a Crest at Ivry,—

> "Press where ye see my white plume shine, amidst the ranks of war,
> And be your oriflamme to-day the helmet of Navarre."

The ninth Earl had a Boar sejant and the more familiar Salamander in flames. The seventh Earl of Douglas and the Earl of Moray used the Peacock's Head.

THE DOUGLASES OF DRUMLANRIG, QUEENSBERRY AND KELHEAD used the Heart crowned and winged.

THE DOUGLASES OF CAVERS use a Hand holding a Broken Spear.

THE DOUGLASES OF ANGUS used at first the Plume of Feathers, then a Peacock and a Salamander. Douglas of Edrington two Dragon's Heads and Necks addorsed. Douglas of Glenbervie: A Salamander, and a Salamander in Flames on a Chapeau. Douglas of Bridgeford: A Hand grasping a Sword. Douglas of Whiterigs: A Demi Savage holding a Club. Douglases of Brigton and Cruckstown: A Salamander in Flames.

THE DOUGLASES OF BONJEDWARD: A Hand holding a Scimitar.

THE DOUGLASES OF MORTON: A Boar passant between two trees. Douglas of Sweden: A Salamander in Flames. Douglases "of Morton": A Hand issuing from a Cloud and grasping a Heart, and a Heart crowned and winged. Douglases of Lochleven: A Boar in the cleft of an Oak Tree, with a Lock holding the clefts together. Douglases of Tilquhillie: A Hand issuing out of a Cloud or Bush holding a Sword or Oak Leaf. Douglases of Mains: An Oak Tree proper. Viscount Belhaven: An Ermine. Douglases of Baads: An Arm in Armour grasping a Dagger.

MOTTOES.

EARL OF DOUGLAS: "What tyde."

DOUGLASES OF DRUMLANRIG, QUEENSBERRY AND KELHEAD: "Forward."

DOUGLASES OF CAVERS: "Do or die."

DOUGLASES OF ANGUS: "Jamais arriere," "Extinctus orior." Lord Mordington: "Forward." Douglas of Bridgeford: "Petit ardua virtus." Douglas of Whiterigs: "Fortis et æquus." Lord Glenbervie: "Per varios casus." Douglases of Brigton and Cruckstown: "Jamais arriere."

Digitized by Google

DOUGLASES OF BONJEDWARD: "Honor et amor."

DOUGLASES OF MORTON: "Sicker," "Jamais arriere," "Spero," "Lock sicker." Douglas of Tilquhillie: "God for us," "Tandem fit surculus arbor." Viscount Belhaven: "Sans tache." Douglas of Mains: "Quæ serrata secura." Douglas of Baads: "Sapientia et virtus."

OTHER DOUGLASES. — Castle-Douglas: "Audax et promptus." Cliftonhall: "Meliora speranda." Earnslaw: "Durate." Garrallan: "Fortis et fidelis."

SUPPORTERS.

EARLS OF DOUGLAS: A Lion sejant, its Head in a Helmet; Two Lions sejant "Helmeted"; A Lion; Two Lions; Two Savages; Two Angels; A Savage; Two Savages holding Clubs. Earl of Moray: Two Savages holding Clubs.

DOUGLASES OF DRUMLANRIG, QUEENSBERRY AND KELHEAD: Two Pegasi; A Pegasus and Lion (the latter for Earldom of March).

DOUGLASES OF ANGUS: A Stag and a Lady; A Savage and a Stag. Lord Torthorwald: Two Peacocks. Duke of Hamilton: Two Antelopes. Earl of Orkney: An Antelope and a Stag. Earl of Selkirk: A Savage and an Antelope. Lord Glenbervie: Two Savages.

DOUGLASES OF MORTON: Two Demi Savages; Two Savages. Swedish Douglases: Two Unicorns. Lord Penrhyn: Two Antelopes. Douglases of Carr and Tilquhillie: Two Savages.

DOUGLASES OF MAINS. — Viscount Belhaven: Two Game Cocks. Lord Blythswood: A Savage and a Lion.

NOTE.—The names "Laing" and "Macdonald" which appear so often in connection with the descriptions of Seals, refer, of course, to the valuable works of these authors.

The Earls of Douglas.

The Earls of Douglas.

THE account of the Earls of Douglas is based on that given in the Scots Peerage and Douglas Book, both of which are improved versions of Hume's History and Douglas' Peerage. Other sources of information are acknowledged in the text.

(1) WILLIAM DE DOUGLAS was, between 1174 and 1199, a witness to a charter granted by Jocelyn, Bishop of Glasgow. He had six sons :—

(b) Brice, Bishop of Moray 1203-1222. His Seal is not armorial.
(c) Alexander, a Canon of Spynie and Vicar of Elgin.
(d) Henry, a Canon of Spynie.
(e) Hugh, a Canon of Spynie and Archdeacon of Moray.
(f) Freskin, parson of Douglas and Dean of Moray.

(2) SIR ARCHIBALD DE DOUGLAS was a witness to a confirmation by Jocelyn, Bishop of Glasgow, in favour of the Monks of Melrose, 1179-1199. Knighted before 1226 and died about 1240. He is believed to have married Margaret, daughter of Sir John de Crauford. He was father of :—

(a) Sir William (No. 3).
(b) Andrew, ancestor of the Earls of Morton. (See No. 251).

(3) SIR WILLIAM DE DOUGLAS, named "Long-leg," besides his lands in Douglasdale, held land in Northumberland. Born about 1200, he died about 1274. His wife is supposed to have been Constance Battail of Fawdon in Northumberland. He had two sons :—

(a) Hugh Douglas, married Marjory, sister of Sir Hugh de Abernethy, about 1259, and probably died without issue in his father's lifetime.
(b) William (No. 4).

Arms of Sir Wm. de Douglas on Seal attached to indenture in connection with the marriage of his son Hugh, dated 1259, are thought by Hume of Godcroft, who had seen the Seal, to be a shield with three stars at the upper end. If Hume was correct this is the earliest instance of the Douglas Arms.

(4) SIR WILLIAM "le Hardi" was knighted before 1288. He was the first to style himself "Lord of Douglas." Died about the end of the year 1298 in the Tower of London. Sir William married first Elizabeth, daughter of Alexander the High Stewart, but she died before 1288, leaving a son :—

(a) James (No. 5).

Sir William married secondly, about 1288, Eleanor, daughter of Matthew, Lord of Lovaine, and widow of William de Ferrers, Lord of Groby, by whom he had two sons :—

(b) Hugh (No. 6). (c) Archibald (No. 7).

Arms.—On Seal attached to the Ragman Roll of 1296 shows a shield with a

chief charged with three stars (Laing). These, the typical Douglas Arms of this branch of the family, have always been described as: Argent, on a chief azure three stars of the field. [Plate II., fig. 1.]

(5) SIR JAMES OF DOUGLAS, known to history as "the Good" and the "Black Douglas." On the death of King Robert Bruce in 1329, his heart, placed in a silver casket, was entrusted to Douglas, who set out with it the following year, and arriving at Seville landed with his followers and joined the army of Alphonso XI., King of Castile, which was then facing the Moors on the frontier of Granada. On the 25th August 1330 the battle was fought and Douglas was killed. Both the Bruce's heart and the body of Douglas were brought home, and the latter buried in St. Bride's Church at Douglas. Sir James Douglas left two sons:—

(a) William, Lord of Douglas, killed when a young man at Halidon Hill, 19th July 1333. He is said to be legitimate (Douglas Book).

Arms.—A doubtful brass Seal ascribed to him, and found at North Berwick, shows on the shield a fess between three stars in chief, and a heart in base (Laing). If genuine this is the first appearance of the Bruce's heart in the Douglas Arms. The "fess" is difficult to account for, but other examples are in the Arms of the Douglases of Mains and Pumpherston.

(b) Archibald, a natural son (No. 10).

(6) HUGH DOUGLAS, brother of the Good Sir James, born 1294, then became Lord of Douglas. He was known as "the Dull," and was Parish Priest of Old Roxburghe. His brother:—

(7) SIR ARCHIBALD DOUGLAS, known as the "Tine-man," i.e., the loser, from his want of success in battle. Born c. 1296; killed at Halidon Hill 19th July 1333. He married Beatrice, daughter of Sir Alexander Lindsay of Crawford, and had the following children:—

(a) John Douglas, who died in France before 1342 in the retinue of David II.

(b) William (No. 8).

(c) Eleanor married as her second husband Sir James de Sandilands, ancestor of Lord Torphichen, who still owns her lands of West Calder.

(8) SIR WILLIAM DOUGLAS, LORD OF DOUGLAS. On 26th January 1358 he was created EARL OF DOUGLAS, and his brother-in-law, Thomas, Earl of Mar, dying without issue about 1374, the Earl of Douglas succeeded to his estates and Earldom. The Earl died at Douglas in May 1384, and was buried at Melrose. He married in 1357 Margaret, daughter of Donald, Earl of Mar, and sister of Thomas, Earl of Mar, who died 1390, leaving a son:—

(a) James (No. 9).

The Earl's brother-in-law, Thomas, Earl of Mar, married Margaret Stewart, Countess of Angus, daughter of Thomas, Earl of Angus, and this lady bore a child to her husband's brother-in-law, William, Earl of Douglas, who was named:—

(b) George, and who became ancestor of the Douglases, Earls of Angus. (See No. 114).

(c) The Earl had also an illegitimate daughter, Margaret, who in 1404 married Thomas Johnson (No. 226). She was granted the Mains of Bonjedward, and was probably ancestress of the Douglases of Bonjedward (Maxwell's History).

Arms of William, first Earl of Douglas and Mar, on Seal, 1356.—A heart, and on a chief three stars. [Plate II., fig. 2.] These Arms also appear on Seal, 1373, with the addition that the shield is supported from behind by a lion sejant, it's head in a helmet. CREST: A plume of eleven feathers (Laing and Macdonald). On Seal, 1380.—1 and 4. A heart, and on a chief three stars. 2 and 3. A bend between six cross crosslets, fitchy (Mar). SUPPORTERS: Two lions sejant, their heads within a helmet on which is the CREST: A plume of eight feathers issuing from a holder (Laing and Macdonald). These Arms are shown in the Armorial de Gelre (fourteenth century), as—1 and 4. Argent, a heart gules, on a chief azure, three mullets of the field. 2 and 3. Azure, a bend between six cross crosslets fitchy or. CREST: White or argent issuing from a red holder. [Plate II., fig. 3.] On his signet appears a heart crowned between two demi lions (Douglas Book).

(9) JAMES, SECOND EARL OF DOUGLAS AND MAR. Born about 1358, and was killed at Otterburn or Chevy Chase about 12th August 1388, and afterwards buried in Melrose. The Earl married about 1373 Princess Isabel, daughter of King Robert II. She died about 1410 having had only one son, who died in infancy. The Earl had, however, two illegitimate sons:—

(a) William, ancestor of the Dukes of Queensberry (No. 21).

(b) Archibald, ancestor of Douglas of Cavers (No. 78).

Arms on Seal, 1373.—A heart, on a chief three stars surmounted by a label of three points. CREST: A plume of twelve feathers increasing in height towards centre. SUPPORTERS: Two lions sejant guardant (Laing and Macdonald). On another Seal.—1 and 4. A heart, on a chief three stars. 2 and 3. A bend between six cross crosslets fitchy. CREST: A plume of feathers. SUPPORTER: A lion (Macdonald).

The Earldom of Mar devolved on his sister, and that of Douglas on his kinsman:—

(10) ARCHIBALD, THIRD EARL OF DOUGLAS, natural son of "the Good" Sir James (No. 5). He was known as "the Grim." He was the builder of Thrieve Castle, and died in 1400. He married Joanna, widow of Sir Thomas Moray, Lord of Bothwell, by whom he acquired the Lordship of Bothwell. He had two sons:—

(a) Archibald (No. 11). (b) James (No. 14).

He had also an illegitimate son:—

(c) Sir William Douglas of Nithsdale. He died about 1392. His wife was the Princess Gylis, daughter of King Robert II., with whom he acquired the Lordship of Nithsdale. They had a son:—

(1) Sir William, who probably died in the Tower, London, about 1420.

Arms of the third Earl of Douglas, on Seal, 1364.—Ermine, a heart, on a chief three stars. SUPPORTERS: Two lions (Macdonald). On Seal, 1373.—Same Arms. CREST: A tower embattled, out of which issues a peacock's head holding in its beak an escroll inscribed "What tyde." SUPPORTERS: Two savages (Laing and Macdonald). On Seal, 1393.—Impaled. Dexter, A heart, on a chief three stars; Sinister, A lion rampant crowned (Galloway). SUPPORTERS: Two savages (Macdonald). Sir David Lindsay shows the Arms of "The Lord of Galloway of Auld" as—Azure, a lion rampant argent, crowned or. [Plate II., fig. 4.]

Digitized by Google

On the Seal of his Countess, 1401, are—Two shields. Dexter shield per pale. Dexter side, A heart, on a chief three stars; Sinister side, A lion rampant crowned (Galloway). Sinister shield. Three stars (Moray) (Macdonald). Nisbet gives the Arms of Moray of Bothwell as—Azure, three stars argent.

(11) ARCHIBALD, FOURTH EARL OF DOUGLAS, was born about 1372. In 1424 he joined King Charles VII. of France, and was created by him DUKE OF TOURAINE, but was killed the same year, 17th August, at the battle of Verneuil. He married, about 1390, Princess Margaret, daughter of John, Earl of Carrick, afterwards King Robert III. He had two sons:—

(a) Archibald (No. 12).

(b) Sir James Douglas, killed with his father at Verneuil, 1424.

Arms on Seal, 1401.—1 and 4. A heart, on a chief three stars. 2 and 3. A lion rampant crowned (Galloway). En surtout, Three stars (Moray). SUPPORTERS: Two savages (Laing). [Plate II., fig. 5.] On Seal, 1409.—All as above, but without Moray (Laing). On Seal, 1418.—1. A heart, on a chief three stars. 2. A lion rampant crowned. 3. Three stars. 4. A saltire and chief (Annandale). CREST: A plume of ostrich feathers. SUPPORTER: A hairy savage holding a club erect in right hand (Laing). [Plate II., fig. 6.]

Lindsay shows these Arms: 1. Argent, a heart gules, on a chief azure three mullets of the field. 2. Azure, a lion rampant argent (no crown). 3. Azure, three mullets argent. 4. Or, a saltire and chief gules.

On Seal of his widow, Margaret Stewart, 1425.—Shield per pale. Dexter, Quarterly. 1. Three fleurs-de-lis (Touraine). 2. A heart, on a chief three stars (Douglas). 3. A saltire and chief (Annandale). 4. A lion rampant crowned (Galloway). [Plate II., fig. 7.] Sinister, A lion rampant within a double tressure flory-counter-flory (Scotland).

Note.—The Arms of Touraine are supposed to be the same as of France—Azure, three fleurs-de-lis or. Those of Scotland are—Or, a lion rampant gules, armed and langued azure, within a double tressure flory-counter-flory of the second. (See also Plate I. for combined Arms of this Earl.)

(12) ARCHIBALD, fifth Earl of Douglas and SECOND DUKE OF TOURAINE. He was born about 1390, and was known as the Earl of Wigtown. He was, about 1421, created Comte de Longueville. On 26th June 1439 he died at Restalrig, and was buried in St. Bride's Church of Douglas. He married Euphemia, daughter of Sir Patrick Graham of Kincardine, probably in 1424. She married, secondly, James Hamilton, first Lord Hamilton, and died about 1469. They had:—

(a) William (No. 13).

(b) David Douglas, killed with his brother, 24th November 1440.

(c) Margaret Douglas, "the Fair Maid of Galloway," who married the eighth and ninth Earls of Douglas.

which the shield hangs. In his left hand he holds a helmet, on which is the CREST: A rounded plume of ostrich feathers (Laing and Macdonald).

(13) WILLIAM, sixth Earl of Douglas, THIRD DUKE OF TOURAINE, was born about 1425. On 24th November 1440 he and his only brother David were executed in Edinburgh Castle. He married Janet or Jean Lindsay, daughter of David, third Earl of Crawford, but had no issue. On the Earl's death the Douglasdale estates passed to his granduncle and successor, James, seventh Earl, but Bothwell, Galloway, and the other estates inherited from his great-grandmother, Joanna Moray, wife of the third Earl, passed to his sister Margaret, the Fair Maid of Galloway. Annandale went to the king.

Arms on his Seal, 1439.—1. Three fleurs-de-lis. 2. A heart, on a chief three stars. 3. A saltire and chief. 4. A lion rampant crowned. SUPPORTER as in his father's Seal of 1431. In fact it is the same Seal as his father used, with the Christian name altered (Macdonald).

(14) JAMES, SEVENTH EARL OF DOUGLAS, was the second son of the third Earl, and was known as "the Gross." He owned Balveny, in Banffshire, and many other lands. About 1437 he was created EARL OF AVONDALE and Lord Balveny. He died 25th March 1443 at Abercorn, and was buried in St. Bride's, at Douglas. He married, first, a daughter of Robert Stewart, Duke of Albany, who died without issue about 1424. About a year afterwards he married Beatrix, daughter of Henry St. Clair, Earl of Orkney. They had:—

(a) William (No. 15).
(b) James (No. 16).
(c) Archibald (No. 17).
(d) Hugh (No. 18).

Arms on his monument.—1. A heart, on a chief three stars. 2. A lion rampant crowned. 3. Three stars. 4. Fretty. Beside the shield is a savage holding up his left hand, and with his right holding a club, which rests on his shoulder. CREST: A peacock's head (Maxwell's History). [Plate II., fig. 9.]

(15) WILLIAM, EIGHTH EARL OF DOUGLAS and SECOND EARL OF AVONDALE, born about 1425. After dinner at Stirling, on the 20th February 1452, the king stabbed the Earl with his dagger, and he was killed by the courtiers. In 1444 the Earl married his cousin, Margaret, "the Fair Maid of Galloway," daughter of the fifth Earl, who had acquired Bothwell, Galloway, etc., on the death of her brother, the sixth Earl. They had no children, and the widow afterwards married her brother-in-law, the ninth Earl (see below).

Arms on his Seal, 1444.—1. A heart, on a chief three stars. 2. A lion rampant (crowned?) 3. Three stars. 4. Fretty (Lauderdale). SUPPORTERS: Two savages, each with a club in his exterior hand (Laing).

(16) JAMES, NINTH EARL OF DOUGLAS, THIRD EARL OF AVONDALE, was twin brother with his brother Archibald (No. 17). Doubts arose as to Douglas' loyalty, and in March 1455 the king attacked the Douglas lands. The Earl fled to England, and his honours were forfeited. In 1462 or 1463 he was made by King Edward IV. of England a Knight of the Garter, and his Stall Plate is still in existence (Shaw's The Knights of England), but returning to Scotland in 1484, he was taken prisoner on 24th July. The king spared his life, but sent him to the Abbey of Lindores. He died in 1488, and was buried at Lindores. Shortly after the death of his brother in 1452, he married the widowed "Fair Maid of Galloway," but she divorced him in 1459 after his forfeiture. He married, secondly, in England, Ann, widow of Sir John Nevill, and daughter of John Holland, Duke of Exeter. She died 1486. "The Fair Maid" married once more, about 1460, John Stewart, Earl of Atholl, and died about 1474.

Arms on Seal before he succeeded to the Earldom.—1. A heart, on a chief three stars. 2. A lion rampant (crowned?). 3. Three stars. 4. Fretty. SUPPORTER: A savage holding club erect in right hand (Macdonald). On Seal, 1453.—1. A heart, on a chief three stars. 2. Fretty. 3. Three stars within a double tressure flory-counter-flory. 4. Six piles (Ettrick Forest). En surtout, A lion rampant (no crown visible). CREST: A boar sejant. SUPPORTERS: Two savages, each holding a club in the exterior hand. Two banners rise from behind the shield, the dexter Quarterly, 1 and 4. Three square cushions; 2 and 3. Three bars; the sinister also Quarterly, 1 and 4. Three stars; 2 and 3. A fess ermine (Laing).

The Arms on his Stall Plate as Knight of the Garter show—1. Argent, a heart gules, on a chief azure three stars of the first. 2. Azure, fretty or. 3. Azure, three stars argent, within a double tressure flory-counter-flory or. 4. Argent, six piles sable. En surtout, Azure, a lion rampant crowned argent. CREST: A salamander or, breathing flames proper, on a chapeau azure turned up ermine (Hope's Stall Plates of the Garter). [Plate II., fig. 10.]

(17) ARCHIBALD, EARL OF MORAY, twin brother of the above (No. 16), acquired the Earldom of Moray through his wife. In 1455, when the king attacked the Douglas lands, he hastened to Annandale; the battle of Arkinholm followed, 1st May 1455, and Moray was killed. He married Elizabeth, daughter and co-heiress of James Dunbar, Earl of Moray. After her husband's death she married again. By the Earl she had a son, James, of whom nothing is known.

Arms on his Seal, 1452.—1 and 4. Three cushions lozengeways, within a double tressure flory-counter-flory. 2 and 3. Ermine, a heart, on a chief three stars. CREST: A tower, and issuing therefrom a peacock's head and neck. SUPPORTERS: Two savages, each holding a club in his exterior hand (Laing).

Lindsay shows these Arms.—1 and 4. Argent, three cushions lozengeways, within a double tressure flory-counter-flory gules. 2 and 3. Argent (not ermine), a heart gules, and on a chief azure three stars of the field. [Plate II., fig. 11.]

(18) HUGH, EARL OF ORMOND, brother of the above (No. 17), was created Earl of Ormond in 1445. He shared in the family ruin at Arkinholm in 1455, where he was wounded, taken prisoner, and shortly afterwards beheaded. He left a son:—

Arms.—These are given in Lindsay: Ermine, a heart gules, on a chief azure three stars argent. [Plate II., fig. 12.]

(19) JOHN, LORD OF BALVENY, brother of the above (No. 18), was created Lord of Balveny in 1445. After Arkinholm, in 1455, he escaped to England. In 1463 he was captured in Eskdale, and beheaded.

(20) HENRY DOUGLAS, brother of the above (No. 19), became Bishop of Dunkeld.

After Arkinholm the ninth Earl of Douglas, with his brothers the Earls of Moray and Ormond and the Lord of Balveny, with their mother Beatrix, were forfeited, and the family estates fell to the Crown. The king then divided the lands among his own supporters. Douglasdale was given to the Earl of Angus; Annandale to the king's son, Alexander, Duke of Albany; and the Carlyles, Johnstons, Maxwells, Scotts, etc., obtained portions.

Cashogle.

THIS pedigree compiled from official records and other sources mentioned in the text.

(64) ARCHIBALD DOUGLAS OF CASHOGLE, second son of No. 24, is mentioned in the Exchequer Roll 1482. He married Isabel Pringle, who afterwards married Carnel Wallace and is said to have borne twelve sons to each husband (Douglas' Baronage and Ramage's Drumlanrig Castle). He was killed in battle 22nd July 1484 (Ramage). His eldest son :—

(65) ARCHIBALD DOUGLAS OF CASHOGLE is mentioned in the Great Seal Register, 1532-45. His son :—

(66) SIR WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF CASHOGLE, and as son of Archibald, was contracted to marry Janet, daughter of Sir James Douglas of Drumlanrig, 1538 (Buccleuch MSS. Report). They had issue :—

(b) Robert (No. 67). (c) Archibald (No. 69).

Digitized by Google

(67) SIR ROBERT DOUGLAS OF CASHOGLE was retoured heir to his brother James 1594, and is mentioned in the Privy Council Register, 1574-1616. He married Nicola Johnston, and her Will was recorded Edinburgh 1590. They had three sons:—

(a) William (No. 68).

(b) Robert Douglas, mentioned 1609 (Privy Council Register). He lost his left ear in a brawl 1621. (Pitcairn's Trials).

(c) John Douglas, mentioned 1609 (Privy Council Register).

(68) SIR WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF CASHOGLE. As apparent of Cashogle he is mentioned in the Privy Council Register, 1609-19, and as Sir William about 1620 and on to 1634. In Traquair MSS. Report he is mentioned 1637. He married Grizel Moray of Blackbarony about 1625 (Douglas' Baronage).

(69) ARCHIBALD DOUGLAS, as brother of Sir Robert (No. 67), is mentioned 1582 (Privy Council Register). He married Barbara Napier, who was tried for witchcraft 1591 (Pitcairn). They had a son:—

(70) JOHN DOUGLAS, who with his father had seizin of lands in Durisdeer, 1569, and he had also seizin of Vicarland, 1612 (Ramage's Drumlanrig Castle). His great-grandson:—

(71) JAMES DOUGLAS got seizin of some lands from the Duke of Queensberry 1714, and is there referred to as great-grandson of John (Ramage's Drumlanrig Castle).

Penzerie and Baitford.

(72) GEORGE DOUGLAS, third son of No. 24, is said to be ancestor of Douglas of Penzerie (Douglas Peerage), but the Douglases of Penzerie and Baitford are so hopelessly mixed in the records that it is impossible to separate them, if they need separating, for the similarity of names and dates suggests only one family. I shall take first:—

Penzerie.

(1) DAVID DOUGLAS OF PENZERIE, 1559 (Buccleuch MSS. Report), 1596 (Great Seal Register).

(2) ARCHIBALD DOUGLAS IN PENZERIE AND ——D, his brother, 1583 (Privy Council Register).

(3) JAMES DOUGLAS OF PENZERIE, 1588-1611 (Great Seal Register), 1599-1602 (Privy Council Register).

GEORGE DOUGLAS, brother of laird of Penzerie, 1608-27-37 (Privy Council Register), 1634-48 (Great Seal Register).

(5) WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF PENZERIE, "a deboshed man," 1608-16 (Privy Council Register). Letters of remission to, 1626 (Great Seal Register).

WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF PENZERIE, retoured to his father James 16th July 1672 and 7th January 1686.

ISABELLA and MARY, retoured heirs-portioners of James Douglas of Penzerie, their father, and William Douglas, their brother, 14th July 1693.

Baitford.

(1) DAVID DOUGLAS OF BAITFORD, 1573 (Buccleuch MSS. Report).

(2) ARCHIBALD DOUGLAS, brother of James Douglas of Baitford, 1609 (Buccleuch MSS. Report).

(3) JAMES DOUGLAS OF BAITFORD, retoured to his father David, 4th October 1575, mentioned Great Seal Register, 1594; Privy Council Register, 1602; Buccleuch MSS. Report, 1609.

ROBERT, brother of James Douglas of Baitford, 1609 (Buccleuch MSS. Report).

(5) WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF BAITFORD, 1603 (Privy Council Register), retoured heir of his father James, 19th January 1628. As William Douglas of Greenlaw and Lyncluden, son of James of Baitford, he is mentioned 1610-14 (Privy Council Register), and as William Douglas of Baitford, 1617-27 (Privy Council Register).

ALEXANDER DOUGLAS OF BOITFOORD, Will recorded Dumfries, 6th October 1680.

ROBERT DOUGLAS OF BAITFORD, retoured to his father, Alexander, 1667. His Will recorded July 1704, Dumfries.

Note.—The stumbling-block of the whole pedigree has been No. 5, William Douglas, who is said at different times to be of Baitford and of Penzerie. He is also said to be grand-nephew and also son of Robert Douglas of Lincluden (No. 63), whom he succeeded in part of his properties, notably Greenlaw. He was a thorough scoundrel, and was eventually tried for theft and other crimes in 1610, and sentenced to have his right hand struck off, and then to be hanged. In Pitcairn's Trials he is called "William Douglas of Lyncluden and Grenelaw (callit Williame of Pinzerie), eldest sone and appeirand air of William Douglas of Baitfurd." The father's Christian name is evidently a mistake. Sir Herbert Maxwell in his House of Douglas assumes that William was executed, but the letters of remission granted to him, 1626, would show that William escaped the gallows. Combining the families, therefore, we have:—

(73) DAVID DOUGLAS, possibly son of No. 72 and father of:—

(b) James (No. 74).
(c) George Douglas.
(d) Robert Douglas.

(74) JAMES DOUGLAS, father of:—

(75) WILLIAM DOUGLAS, married Agnes, sister of John, ninth Lord Maxwell, and was probably father of:—

(76) ALEXANDER DOUGLAS, father of:—

(77) ROBERT DOUGLAS.

The Douglases of Angus.

THE history of the Douglases of Angus is based on the Scots Peerage, Douglas Peerage and Baronage, Douglas Book, Complete Peerage and public records, unless where otherwise stated in the text. The families still existing have been brought up to date by Burke's Peerage, and the account of the Douglases of Brigton is taken from family papers kindly lent me by Colonel William Charles Douglas of Brigton.

(114) GEORGE DOUGLAS was the natural son of William, first Earl of Douglas (No. 8). On 9th April 1389 his mother, Margaret (Stewart), Countess of Angus, resigned the Earldom of Angus to him, and also the Lordships of Abernethy and Bonkil. In 1397 he married Princess Mary, daughter of King Robert III. He was taken prisoner at Homildon in 1402, and afterwards died of the plague. His widow married three other husbands. He was succeeded by his son:—

(115) WILLIAM, SECOND EARL OF ANGUS, died September or October 1437. He married Margaret, daughter of Sir Wm. Hay of Yester, about 1425, and had:—

(a) James (No. 116).

(259) JAMES, THIRD LORD DALKEITH. He married Joan, "the dumb lady," daughter of King James I., in 1458, and was then created EARL OF MORTON. The Earl died about 1504, leaving two sons:—

(a) John (No. 260). (b) James Douglas.

(260) JOHN, SECOND EARL OF MORTON, died about 1516. He married Janet, daughter of Crichton of Cranston Riddell, and left two sons:—

(a) James (No. 261). (b) Richard (No. 262).

(261) JAMES, THIRD EARL OF MORTON, died 1552. He married Katherine, a natural daughter of King James IV. The Earl left only the following daughters:—

(a) Margaret Douglas, married James, Earl of Arran, Duke of Chatelherault and Regent of Scotland.

(b) Elizabeth Douglas, married in 1543 James Douglas (No. 124), who became fourth Earl of Morton and entailed the title. (See No. 124).

(c) Beatrix Douglas, married Robert, sixth Lord Maxwell, and was mother of:—

(1) John, eighth Lord Maxwell, who was created, 1584 (fifth) Earl of Morton.

Note.—For the sixth Earl of Morton see the eighth Earl of Angus (No. 123).

Arms.—CREST and SUPPORTERS on Seal, 1529, same as No. 257 above (Laing). On Seal, 1543, same Arms and Supporters. CREST: A boar passant behind a tree (Macdonald).

(262) RICHARD DOUGLAS, second son of No. 260. He had two sons:—

(a) William Douglas (see No. 124). (b) James Douglas.

(263) HENRY DOUGLAS OF BORG, third son of No. 257. He is mentioned, Great Seal Register, 1440, 1452, 1473. He married Margaret, daughter of James, seventh Earl of Douglas (No. 14). She survived him and was still living 1469 (Douglas Book). They had issue:—

(a) Patrick (No. 264). (c) James Douglas. } Douglas Book.

(b) Hugh (No. 268). (d) John Douglas. }

(264) PATRICK DOUGLAS OF COREHEAD is mentioned when his grand-nephew Francis (No. 271), was retoured his heir. He was probably father of:—

(265) WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF COREHEAD, 1532 (Great Seal Register). The next of Corehead was:—

(266) PATRICK DOUGLAS OF COREHEAD, 1543 and 1564 (Great Seal Register), also described as of Moffat, 1542 (Great Seal Register). He may have been father of:—

(267) WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF MOFFAT, 1581 (Great Seal Register).

Arms of Douglas of Moffat are shown in Sir David Lindsay's MS., 1542—Argent, a lion's head erased gules, on a chief of the second two stars of the first. [Plate VI., fig. 2.]

(268) HUGH DOUGLAS OF BORG, second son of No. 263. He and his wife, Christian, are mentioned 1479 (Great Seal Register). His wife's name was Seton, see Arms below.

Arms on Seal of Christian Seton, relict of Hugh Douglas of Borg, 1507.—Impaled; Dexter, Two stars in chief and a (lion's head erased?) in base; Sinister, Three crescents (Macdonald).

He was apparently father of:—

(a) Hugh (No. 269). (b) George Douglas.

Arms on Seal of George Douglas, son of late Hugh Douglas of Borg 1507.—A crescent, on a chief two stars (Macdonald).

(269) HUGH DOUGLAS OF BORG, who with his wife, Mariot Cockburn, is mentioned 1538. He is also called "of Longniddry," 1543 (Great Seal Register). They had issue:—

(a) George (No. 270).
(b) Francis (No. 271).
(c) David Douglas, mentioned with his brother Francis, 1573 (Privy Council Register).
(d) Hugh Douglas in Longniddry, married Marion Wilson, whose Will is recorded, Edinburgh, 28th December 1594.

(270) GEORGE DOUGLAS is described as son of Hugh, 1542 (Great Seal Register), and as of Corehead, son of late Hugh Douglas of Borg, 1587 (Great Seal Register).

(271) FRANCIS DOUGLAS OF BORG, second son of No. 269, and his wife Agnes Lauder are mentioned 1577 (Great Seal Register), and in 1581 he was retoured heir of Patrick Douglas of Corehead, brother of his grandfather (Great Seal Register). In 1566 as "of Longniddry," and with his brother George he is mentioned in the Privy Council Register, Agnes Lauder's will, recorded 2nd December 1579, Edinburgh. He had a son:—

(272) GEORGE DOUGLAS, described as son and heir of Francis, 1581 (Privy Council Register); also as son of Francis, and with his wife, Elizabeth Fairlie, he is mentioned 1577 (Great Seal Register). He is probably "George Douglas, apparent of Longniddry" 1588-90 (Privy Council Register), and as "of St. Germains," 1586 (Great Seal Register).

Arms of Douglas of Longniddry, as given in Sir David Lindsay's MS., 1542, show this family to be a younger branch of Moffat.—Argent, a lion's head erased gules, on a chief of the second a crescent between two stars of the first. [Plate VI., fig. 3.]

Whittinghame.

(273) SIR WILLIAM DOUGLAS, son of the first Lord Dalkeith (No. 257) by his second wife, Janet Borthwick, succeeded to Whittinghame and Morton on the death of his father about 1441. According to the Great Seal Register he and his wife, Euphemia, had a charter of Whittinghame, 12th January 1452-53. Sir William must have married a second time, and have died before 5th February 1484, for in the Privy Council Register of that date mention is made of Margaret Fleming, widow of Sir William, and also a son :—

(a) William (No. 274).

Margaret Fleming is again mentioned in the same Register, 6th February 1488, with two other sons :—

(b) James (No. 289).

(c) George Douglas, who is mentioned again in 1512.

(274) WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF WHITTINGHAME is first mentioned as above in 1484, and again in the Exchequer Roll, 1491. He is also mentioned in Pitcairn's Trials, 1527-44. In the Great Seal Register of 1512 his wife is given as Janet Matheson, and she was still living, according to the same Register, in 1543. He had issue :—

(a) William (No. 275).

(b) Archibald Douglas is often mentioned in the Privy Council Register. He was made a Lord of Session in 1565, was concerned in the murder of Rizzio in 1566, and was present at the murder of Lord Darnley in 1567. In 1571 he was made lay parson of Glasgow. He was tried for his crimes in 1586, one of the judges being his nephew (No. 276), and was, of course, acquitted. The following year he was dismissed from office and fled to England, where he is supposed to have died about 1600. He married Jean Hepburn, daughter of Patrick, fourth Earl of Bothwell, and apparently had a son :—

(1) John, as the Privy Council Register mentions "Jokkie Douglas, son of Archibald Douglas, Parson of Glasgow," 1581.

(e) Patrick Douglas, mentioned as brother of William, 1555, and as of Brokholis, 1558, 1566, 1576 (Great Seal Register). He is also described in charter of 1572 as "brother to umquhile William Douglas of Quhittinghame" (Macdonald's Scottish Seals).

Arms on Seal, 1572.—A cinquefoil, on a chief two stars (Macdonald). [Plate VI., fig. 4.]

(275) WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF WHITTINGHAME. He with his brother Archibald was accused of Rizzio's murder in 1566, and is mentioned in the Buccleuch MSS. Report as "grandson of the late William Douglas of Quittinghame" under date "probably 1569." He died about 1572 (see his brother Patrick, above). According to the Great Seal Register of 1537 he was then married to Elizabeth Lauder (of the Bass?) and had issue:—

(a) William (No. 276).

(b) Sir James Douglas of Whittinghame, mentioned in Pitcairn's Trials 1606.

(c) Richard Douglas is described as "son of William Douglas of Whittinghame" in 1581 (Great Seal Register), and also in Privy Council Register 1592. In the Great Seal Register he is described as of Brokholis 1612, 1619, 1621. He died about the last date, as the Great Seal Register of 1624 mentions "late" Richard Douglas of Brokholis, Christian his widow, and James his brother. He married Christian Douglas, daughter of Robert, Earl of Buchan (Scots Peerage).

(d) Patrick Douglas } Described as sons of William Douglas of (e) John Douglas } Whittinghame, 1581 (Great Seal Register).

(276) WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF WHITTINGHAME is mentioned in the Privy Council Register, 1573-81, and in the Great Seal Register, 1566-1603. He was a Senator of the College of Justice, but resigned in 1590, when his son succeeded him. His Will was recorded in Edinburgh, 4th December 1602. According to the Great Seal Register Elizabeth Maitland was his wife in 1588, and in 1610 she is styled "relict." He married Elizabeth, daughter of Sir Richard Maitland of Lethington (Douglas' Peerage), and had issue:—

(a) Archibald (No. 277).

(b) Patrick (No. 278).

(c) William Douglas, Treasurer of Moray, described as son of William Douglas of Whittinghame, 1600 and 1605 (Great Seal Register). He was M.P. for Haddington 1605 (Foster's M.P.'s). According to the Great Seal Register, 1628, he is described as William Douglas of Stanypath and brother of Archibald Douglas of Whittinghame, and in the same Register, 1642, Elizabeth Cranston is named as his widow. His daughter, mentioned Great Seal Register 1628, was:—

(1) Isobel Douglas, married Sir Arthur Douglas (No. 365), cousin of the Earl of Morton, who succeeded to Whittinghame 1628 (Great Seal Register).

(d) James Douglas, mentioned as brother of Archibald, 1630 (Great Seal Register), and again in 1631, when he sells lands of Garvald to one of the Douglases of Cavers.

(e)? Rev. John Douglas, M.A., appointed to Longformacus 1594, translated to Canonbie 1609, also Morton in 1615. Died before 31st January 1653 (Scott's Fasti). On 4th April 1639 he was retoured to his brother James in lands of Whittinghame.

(277) SIR ARCHIBALD DOUGLAS OF WHITTINGHAME is called apparent of Whittinghame, 1592-95 (Great Seal Register). He succeeded his father as Senator of the College of Justice in 1590, and is so described in Great Seal Register 1598, and "of Whittinghame" 1603; M.P. for Haddington 1604-08; knighted and made Privy Councillor 1603; resigned seat on the Bench 1618 (Foster's M.P.'s). In 1628 he resigned the lands of

Whittinghame to Sir Arthur Douglas (No. 365). His Will recorded Edinburgh 29th February 1632. He had issue:—

(a) Archibald Douglas, who died unmarried 28th November 1660.

(b) Elizabeth Douglas, retoured heir to her brother 15th May 1662. She married the Hon. Alexander Seton (third son of George, third Earl of Winton), who was created Viscount Kingston 1651. They had issue.

Arms of Douglas of Whittinghame, according to Nisbet: "Ermine, on a chief gules two stars argent, as in Esplin's and Pont's Books of Blazons; but Mr Thomas Crawfurd, in his Manuscript, says he placed in base a cinquefoil sable, being his maternal figure for Borthwick." [Plate VI., fig. 4.]

Sweden.

THE history of the Swedish branch of the Whittinghame family is taken from Gabriel Anrep's Genealogical Tables of the Swedish Nobility, Stockholm, 1855, and continuation of same work, from 1857 to 1897, by F. M. Wrangel and Otto Bergström, and, lastly, from the Sveriges Ridderskaps och adels Kalender, 1906.

(278) PATRICK DOUGLAS OF BROKHOLIS AND OF STANDINGSTONES, described as brother of Archibald of Whittinghame, 1610 (Great Seal Register), second son of No. 276, married Cristian, daughter of Andrew Davidson Leslie. The Will of "Cristian Leslie, relict of Patrik Douglas in Standand-staine," parish of Morhame, constab. of Haddington, is recorded Edinburgh 20th June 1628.

Arms in Fraser's "Funeral Escutcheons."—Ermine, in chief a crescent gules; on a chief of the second, two stars argent. [Plate VI., fig. 5.]

Their son:—

(279) ROBERT DOUGLAS, born 17th March 1611 at Standingstones; died in Stockholm, of apoplexy, 28th May 1662. He went to Sweden in 1631 with the Scottish troops brought over by the Marquis of Hamilton, and was in 1651 created Baron Skälby, and in 1654 COUNT OF SKENNINGE. He was also a Field-Marshal. In 1646 he married, at Leipzig, Hedvig Mörner (died 1705), daughter of Stellan Otto von Mörner. They had six sons:—

(a) William Douglas of Högsäter, born 20th November 1646; died unmarried 17th February 1674.

(b) Gustavus (No. 280).

(c) Axel Douglas of Högsäter, Sandgarden, and Zewen, born 14th November 1650 in Stockholm; died 18th May 1673 in Stockholm.

(d) Adolphus Douglas, born in Stockholm 3rd December 1651; died of wounds at Brussels 17th August 1674.

Douglas of Morton.

THIS pedigree is very difficult to understand for several reasons. First, the Lordship of Morton was renounced by Sir William Douglas of Whittinghame and Morton (No. 273) in favour of James, first Earl of Morton, in 1474 (Registrum Honoris de Morton); second, there was a family of Douglas, of Morton or Gogars, in Midlothian; third, there was a family of Morton in Dumfriesshire, and this last family is supposed to be a branch of Douglas of Whittinghame, and the Arms granted to this family at various times imply a connection with this house.

(289) JAMES DOUGLAS, second son of No. 273, was possibly the first of the family, but it may have been his brother George. The next apparently was:—

(290) PATRICK DOUGLAS in Morton, mentioned in Buccleuch charters 18th September 1559 and 11th March 1574. He had two sons:—

(a) James (No. 291).

(b) Triamor or Triamouth Douglas, mentioned in the above charter of 1559.

(291) JAMES DOUGLAS, mentioned in the same charters as his father, 1559 and 1574. He may have been father of:—

(292) HUGH DOUGLAS, who had a charter and sasine of Bellybucht, in the barony of Morton, called Burn, and part of Bus, 23rd April 1593 (Drumlanrig Castle and the Douglases). He is also mentioned in the Privy Council Register, 1598-1623, and, along with a brother John, is mentioned in the same Register 1603-10. He apparently married Nicolas Maitland, as she is described in the record of her Will at Edinburgh as "sometyme spouse of Hew Douglas of Bellybocht, par. of Morton, Dumfries," 4th August 1607. He had issue:—

(293) JAMES DOUGLAS OF MORTON, had sasine, as son of Hugh, 20th July 1624. On 21st April 1636 he acquired the lands of Auchinsell, Muirhill, and Blackmyre (Drumlanrig Castle and the Douglases). He was a Commissioner of Supply for Dumfries 1643-49, and died about 1653 (Scots Acts of Parliament). He married Christian, daughter of Sir James Lockhart of Lee (Douglas' Baronage). He had three sons:—

(a) William (No. 294).

(b) Archibald (No. 310).

(c) Samuel Douglas of Auchinshinnoch. "This property 'passed' to Samuel Douglas, brother of William Douglas of Morton, June 1670" (M'Kerlie's Lands and their Owners in Galloway, also Ramage's Drumlanrig Castle and the Douglases).

(294) WILLIAM DOUGLAS OF MORTON. He was retoured to his father 28th January 1656 and 8th January 1663. He sold his lands to the Earl of Queensberry in 1672. There is a disposition granted to the Earl by William, in which he mentions his son James, and also his brothers Archibald and Samuel, 16th January 1683 (M'Kerlie). He married Esther Elliot of Stobs (Ramage). He had one son:—

(295) JAMES DOUGLAS. He owned lands in Dalry 1682 (M'Kerlie), and married, first, Jean (or Jessie) daughter of Captain Maxwell, 3rd Guards (Ramage); second, he married Miss Stewart. By his first wife he left a son:—

(296) ARCHIBALD DOUGLAS, born 24th June 1703. Surgeon in Moffat. In Lyon Register he is described as descended in the direct male line from William Douglas, first of Whittinghame. He married, first, Jean Dickson of Hartree, who died 1756, leaving:—

(a) James (No. 297). (b) Colonel David (No. 300).

And secondly, Mary Hutchison, by whom he had a son:—

(c) Archibald (No. 307).

Arms.—Archibald Douglas recorded Arms in the Lyon Office 30th May 1772—Argent, a cinquefoil sable, on a chief gules two stars of the field.

(365) SIR ARTHUR DOUGLAS, second son of No. 343. He is mentioned along with his father in the Privy Council Register, 1628, as follows:—"Arthur Douglas son of D. Archibald Douglas father's brother of William Earl of Morton, and Isabel Douglas his wife daughter of William Douglas of Stanypath, granted the lands of Whittinghame which Sir Archibald Douglas of Whittinghame (No. 277) with consent of his said brother William resigned." This deed shows that his first wife was Isabel, daughter of William Douglas of Stanypath. As Sir Arthur Douglas of Whittinghame he is mentioned in the Privy Council Register, 1636. He apparently married secondly Elspeth Douglas, as her Will was proved Edinburgh 18th August 1636. He also appears to have married thirdly, in 1642, Elizabeth, daughter of James Preston (Great Seal Register). Sir Arthur Douglas' Will proved Edinburgh, 12th January 1644. By his second wife he had:—

(a) Archibald Douglas, who is mentioned in connection with his father's third marriage (Great Seal Register). After the death of his father, his grandfather on the father's side, Archibald Douglas "of Keillor" (No. 343), was appointed his tutor, 1st May 1644.

Keilor.

(366) SIR GEORGE DOUGLAS, fourth son of No. 325. In Douglas' Peerage he is said to be "of Keilor," but in the Privy Council Register of 1607 and Great Seal Register of 1610 he is said to be "of Kirkness" (see his brother, No. 343).

Buchan.

(367) ROBERT, EARL OF BUCHAN, second son of No. 324. He married Christina Stewart, Countess of Buchan in her own right, and thus became Earl of Buchan. He died 18th August, and his wife on 20th September, 1580 (Scots Peerage). They had a son:—

(368) JAMES, EARL OF BUCHAN, born about 1580; died 26th August 1601. He married Margaret, daughter of Walter, first Lord Ogilvy of Deskford, and had an only daughter, Mary Douglas, who married James Erskine, second son of John, Earl of Mar.

Arms.—1 and 4. Argent, three piles issuing from a chief gules charged with two stars of the first. 2. Azure, three garbs, or (Buchan). 3. Or, a fess chequy azure and argent (Stewart) (Nisbet's Heraldry). [Plate VII., fig. 2.]

Tilquhillie.

(369) DAVID DOUGLAS, second son of Sir Henry of Lochleven (No. 320) is said by Douglas in his Peerage to be designed brother of Robert of Lochleven in a charter of 12th August 1494. From the date, and also by the Arms borne by this family, it is probable that this David Douglas is identical with David Douglas, the first of this family, who married in 1479 Janet,
